An update from Adrian Capogreco

Together through challenge and opportunity

Despite the challenges presented to growers and the entire agriculture industry by the conflict in Iran, good autumn rainfall has supported strong establishment prospects for Australia's 2026 winter crop.

While livestock market exports to the middle east are facing challenges, Australia's other export customers, including the United States, China, and other south-east Asian destinations, have remained strong red meat buyers to start the year.

Cattle markets have remained resilient, with strong demand absorbing increased supply from north-east New South Wales and south-east Queensland. Meanwhile, tighter supply has pushed lamb and sheep prices to historically high levels for this time of year.

Though market conditions remain reactive to global conflict, international trade policy, and variable weather conditions, Nutrien is committed to standing by customers. Your ongoing support helps us continue to navigate the challenges and seize the opportunities available to Australian agriculture in 2026 and beyond.

Doing our part for a safer future

On 8 May, Nutrien branches went blue in support of Do it For Dolly Day. We're a proud, long-term partner of Dolly's Dream, a charity set up in honour of Dolly Everett, who sadly took her own life in 2018 following a period of sustained online bullying.

Nutrien kickstarted this year's fundraising efforts with a $50,000 donation, and since then, together we've raised an additional $264,000 to help promote kindness, wellbeing and support for those who may be experiencing harm. I'm immensely proud of the way we've stood shoulder-to-shoulder for this cause.

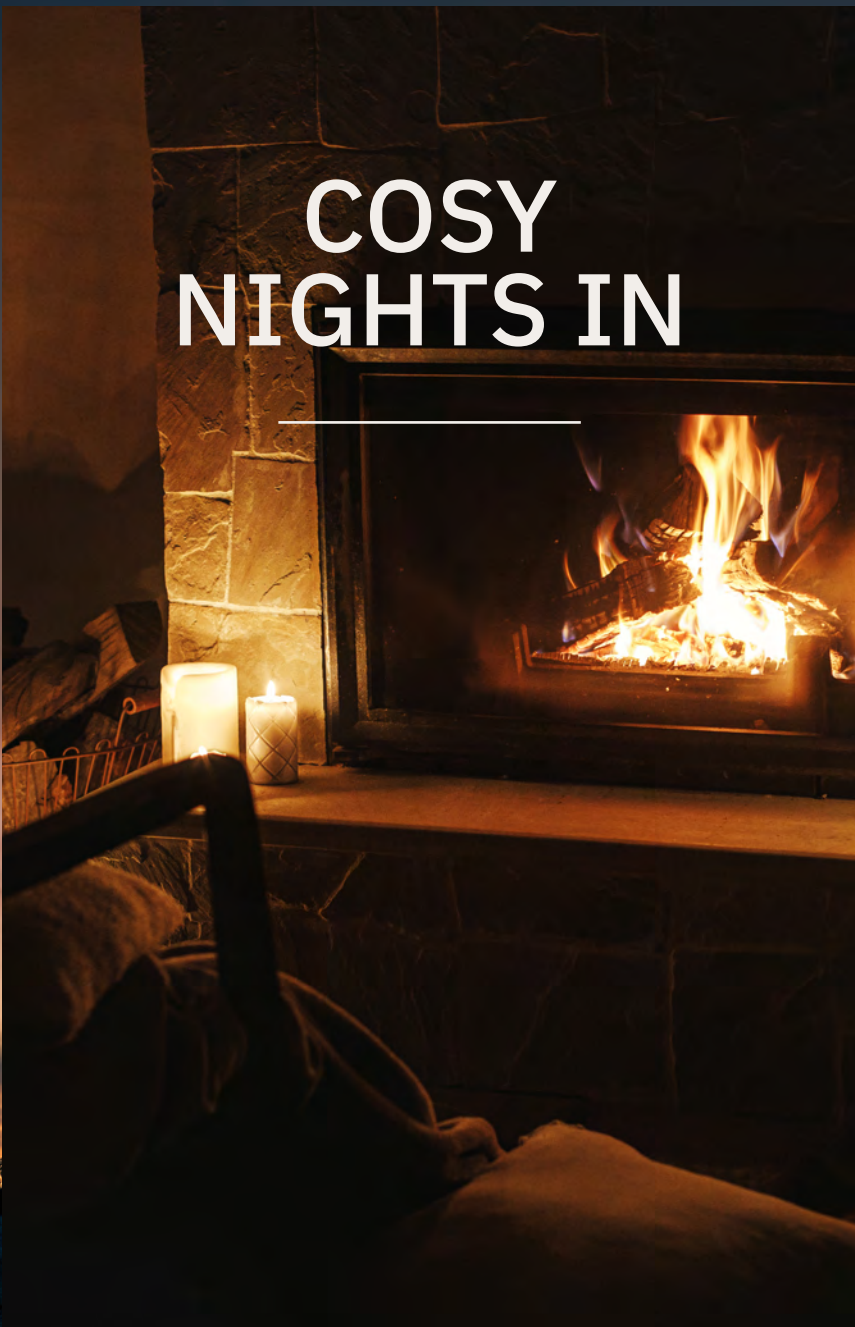

Thank you for your support, together we're influencing real change for young Australians, particularly those in rural, remote, and regional communities.

The HRO Handheld EID Tag Reader ensures you never miss a tag. With Bluetooth connectivity, it pairs seamlessly with weigh scales and mobile phones so you can send EID numbers where they need to go, fast.

It's EID made easy.

EID IS HERE TO STAY — SO WHAT?

EID Made Easy: How a New Handheld Reader Is Changing Yard Work for the Better

Electronic Identification (EID) is quickly becoming part of everyday livestock management across Australia. While “compliance” often leads the conversation, the reality on farm is more practical — scanning animals accurately, capturing clean data, and keeping records in order for movements, sales and traceability. Whether EID becomes a time saver or just another job often comes down to the tool in your hand.

The new HR0 Handheld Tag Reader from Gallagher is building a reputation as one of those quiet achievers — a tool that earns its place by making a demanding job noticeably easier.

Speed That Fits the Rhythm of the Yards

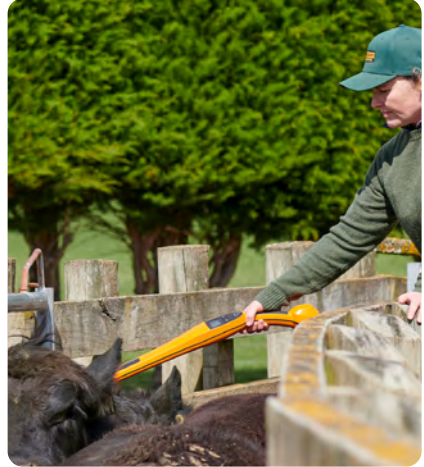

One of the first things producers notice is its pace. The HR0 reads tags quickly and from further out than many standard handheld readers, helping keep animals moving rather than hesitating in the race. Over a full day, those small gains add up — fewer missed reads, less doubling back, and smoother progress through the yards.

Built for Long Days and Tough Conditions

The HR0 is also designed with day-to-day use in mind. It’s well balanced, making it comfortable to handle across long stretches, whether working in the crush, around a weigh platform or between pens. Built to handle dust, mud and the knocks of livestock work, and supported by all-day battery life, it’s made to keep going from first light through to the last draft.

Connectivity Without the Headaches

Technology only works if it fits into existing farm systems. The HR0 keeps things simple, connecting easily to weigh scales, farm management apps or cloud storage, while adapting to current workflows rather than changing them.

A clear triple feedback system — flash, beep and vibration — also makes it easy to confirm each read, reducing second guessing and missed scans.

More Than Just Compliance

While compliance may be the starting point, reliable data is where the real value sits. Consistent reads make weighing smoother, drafting faster and record keeping easier, helping build a clearer picture of individual animal performance and supporting more informed decisions.

A Practical Step Forward

As EID becomes more embedded across the industry, tools that are simple, dependable and built for real farm conditions are becoming essential. The HR0 is one of those: practical, straightforward and designed to support both compliance and day-to-day management.

A scenic view of a lake and mountains at sunset, framed by a tent opening. The sun is low on the horizon, casting a warm, golden glow over the landscape. The water of the lake reflects the light, and the mountains in the distance are silhouetted against the bright sky. The tent's interior is visible in the foreground, with a dark sleeping bag and a wooden pole. The overall mood is peaceful and serene.

Decadent Fudgy Brownies

Ingredients

250g dark chocolate (60–70%),
chopped
200g unsalted butter
1 cup (220g) caster sugar
½ cup (110g) brown sugar
3 large eggs (room temperature)
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
¾ cup (110g) plain flour
¼ cup (25g) cocoa powder
½ teaspoon salt

Equipment

Stand mixer
20cm square baking tin
Baking paper

Instructions

1. Preheat & prep

Oven to 170°C (fan 160°C)
Line your baking tin with paper

2. Melt chocolate & butter

Gently melt together (microwave or stovetop), stir until smooth. Let it cool slightly (important so eggs don't scramble)

3. Whip eggs & sugar (key step)

In your KitchenAid, beat eggs, caster sugar, and brown sugar on medium-high for 3–5 minutes.
You're looking for a thick, pale, slightly fluffy mixture

4. Add chocolate mixture

Pour in melted chocolate + vanilla. Mix on low until combined

5. Fold in dry ingredients

Sift in flour, cocoa, and salt
Mix on low just until combined (don't over mix)

6. Bake

Pour into tin and smooth the top & bake for 20–25 minutes
Centre should be slightly soft (that's what makes them fudgy)

7. Cool completely

This is the hardest part—let them cool before cutting for best texture

TRANSCEND[®]

DUAL BAITING SYSTEM

Targeting slaters, earwigs, millipedes, snails & slugs.

P: 1800 171 799

E: Sales@imtrade.com.au

www.imtrade.com.au

TRANSCEND®: SOLVE EARWIGS, SLATERS AND MILLIPEDES FOR $20+/HA

Early establishment is critical to achieving maximum yield potential in crops such as Canola. Ground pests including millipedes, slaters and earwigs, combined with molluscs such as snails and slugs, can devastate emerging crops and dramatically reduce seedling numbers. Growers & Agronomists in the Great Southern region are continually seeking best practices to manage these pests, balancing the requirement of effective control with cost efficiencies.

Imtrade Transcend® holds a unique registration for the eBective control of millipedes, slaters and earwigs at rates as low as 2 kg/ha. By leveraging this ultra-low use rate, growers can control these pests at $20+/Ha, while also providing an eBective starting point for snail and slug management programs due to the dual nature of the bait. Transcend® also places minimal to no oB-target pressure on beneficial organisms, supporting pollinators and healthy farm ecosystems.

Transcend®'s performance has been validated through both laboratory and field trials. Transcend® is manufactured to the highest standard, with the dual-active constituents encapsulated within a highly weather-tolerant pellet. This advanced blending process ensures an even distribution of active ingredients which remain protected for the full life of the bait. Unlikely many alternatives which rapidly degrade under UV exposure and rainfall, Transcend® maintains its integrity for up to 8 weeks.

Consumption data also demonstrates that Transcend® is highly palatable to earwigs, slaters and millipedes, delivering a lethal dose at very small consumption rates (Table 1 below). While advantageous to preventing crop damage, it also addresses the issue of these species rapidly consuming snail/slug baits that historically had little eBect (due to being metaldehyde based only). As the ingested amount required to cause lethality is low, the majority of the bait remains for snail/slug encounter, decreasing risk of costly and time consuming re-applications.

Table 1: The weight of baits applied per treatment per arena in controlled laboratory assays and the mean consumption of baits 3 DAT by Common Slater (Psephenus scaber), European Earwig (Psephenus australis), and Portuguese Millipede (Chromasthesis montana)

Smoky BBQ Beef Brisket

Ingredients

Beef

- 2–3kg beef brisket
- 2 tablespoons olive oil

BBQ Rub

- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1 tablespoon smoked paprika
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 2 teaspoons cracked black pepper
- 1 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1 teaspoon onion powder
- ½ teaspoon chilli powder

Moisture Pan

- 2 cups water (Optional: splash of beer or apple juice)

Serve with

- Coleslaw
- Damper or bread rolls
- Roast potatoes
- Pickles
- Corn on the cob

Instructions

1. Prep the brisket

- Trim any very thick fat from the brisket, leaving a thin layer for flavour. Rub with olive oil.
- Mix all rub ingredients together and coat the brisket generously.
- Let it sit for 30 minutes while you fire up the Ozpig.

2. Prepare the Ozpig Oven Smoker

- Bring the smoker to around 120–140°C using hardwood or charcoal with wood chunks added for smoke. The Ozpig Oven Smoker is designed to maintain stable low-and-slow temperatures in this range.

- Place the water pan inside the smoker and fill with water (or beer/apple juice mix).

3. Smoke the brisket

- Place brisket fat-side up on the middle rack.

- Cook for approximately:
 - 5–7 hours total
 - Or until internal temperature reaches about 95°C

- Every hour:
 - Check fuel and airflow
 - Add wood as needed
 - Lightly spritz with apple juice or water if desired

4. Rest (important)

- Remove brisket, wrap loosely in foil or butcher paper, and rest for at least 30 minutes before slicing. Slice against the grain.
